WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN TRIBUTE

The schools of the birthday commemoration of Abraham Lincoln who will this morning to liberty and democracy have hardly ceased until citizens should stop to give an account of life to study and admire the illustrious character of George Washington for whom God has best fitted to lay the foundation of this great republic.

As we would bring to the world's ears at this time something higher than a mere ideal, something more in accord with "Peace on earth, good will to men," we must be true to our American. Our minds are so occupied with daily tasks that we are apt to lose more of the value and worth of those who have made our country what it is. Like Washington and Lincoln, we must understand the ways with a spirit of selflessness, without regard to difficulties or dangers, knowing no glory but the without personal ambition and half a structure which stands as a beacon light of liberty to all men.

February 22 is observed in almost every state as American Legion day. The Washington addressment to history is a tribute to them and to Washington is a tribute to the brave men who have followed.

patron saints and fortunate to have received the gifts of such legacies.

It is fitting that as patriotic women and teachers of patriotism we celebrate each year the natal days of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, and from their wonderful characters draw inspiration which we may impart to others. Let us remember with pride that Washington and Lincoln were Americans, and that we are Americans. We must do our best as they did, then and ours than shall we have nothing to say in the morning and nothing to fear at night. This motto live and let live.

REDS MAY MAKE UNJUST RULING WAR ON CHINA OF STATE BOARD

Correspondence of Associated Press. Peking, Jan. 27. Danger that the Bolshevik government of Russia may make war on China is pointed out by the Peking Leader by R. Leary, Singapore, writing under the pen name of Peking World. He is the author of several works on China and recently was retained by the Chinese government as "advisor" regarding the dispute to the president.

Mr. Leary Simpson says that in China public opinion could not really declare war upon a noncapitalist regime where the millions had as much as the Russian millions, but nevertheless China finds her leaderless deeply affected to make agreement made in years ago with the government of the late Emperor Nicholas have been deeply considered and also Chinese have been leaving no stone unturned to interpret those agreements and arrangements.

The author sees a possible cause of a declaration of war on China by the Bolsheviks in the fact that the old Russian diplomatic and consular establishment in China has been supported by Chinese funds from the Boxer indemnity account. "It is quite likely," he asserts, "that the Russian revolutionary government as it penetrates further to the east will consider that this is something more than a unilateral service—perhaps a cash bill and a reason to strike at the regions of Turkestan." He predicts that Japan will attempt to come to an agreement with the Soviet government of Russia and that "the price" Japan will ask will have to be paid by China unless she acts quickly.
